Make a cut along the dashed lines. Cut out the figure of Jairus's daughter, the strips with the dove and the words of God. Insert the strips into the openings of the worksheet. Then unfold the fins so that the strip does not leave its place. First strip corresponds to the baptism of Jesus and the second to the scene on the mountain. Now you can move it up and down. With a pin or clasp, place the figure of Jairus's daughter in the second illustration. You can lay her down and then have her stand up to remember the Bible story and tell it to others.
