

WISDOM OF THE WORLD

VS.

WISDOM OF GOD

Have you ever heard your friends make any of the following statements? What kind of wisdom do they represent?

If you like it, then it must be ok.

If everyone does it, I can do it too.

Laws were made to be broken.

It's my life, and I will live it as I please.

Nobody can tell you what is good;
Only you can decide.

God observes what happens in our lives from a different perspective.
