

Journalist: Good morning, listeners! This is Katie Clark, bringing you the latest news from Jerusalem. We are all hearing the rumors about Jesus, one of the men who was crucified last week. Some sources say that at least 16 people have seen him alive.

According to reports, Mary Magdalene, one of his followers, was the first to see him face to face. She reportedly saw him last Sunday when she went to visit his tomb. Peter and John, two of Jesus' disciples, said that they saw the empty tomb and the linen clothes in which Jesus had been wrapped, in addition to the shroud that had been around his head.

A journalist from an Emmaus radio station interviewed two men from the city who claimed that Jesus appeared to them on the road from Jerusalem to Emmaus. However, they didn't recognize him until they sat down to eat with him. "I realized it was Jesus when he blessed the food," said Cleopas, one of the men.

Today, one of Jesus' disciples has agreed to meet with us. Welcome, Simon Peter!
